2015 Durham Neighborhood College Invites Applicants

Deadline to Apply Is July 10, 2015

DURHAM, N.C. – Residents looking to play a more active role in their neighborhoods and the Durham community will get their chance to learn how at the 2015 Durham Neighborhood College, a class designed specifically for residents to learn about the organization, operations, and services of their local City and County governments.

Applications are now available for the 2015 Durham Neighborhood College. This series of classes, co-sponsored by the City of Durham and Durham County, consists of interactive sessions facilitated by various local government officials, allowing residents to learn about key government operations directly from the elected officials and staff responsible for overseeing key City and County services.

The final day to apply for this year's session is Friday, July 10, 2015. All applicants must be current in their vehicle and property taxes at the time of application.

The classes will be held on nine Thursday nights beginning September 10, 2015, from 6 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. Space in the Durham Neighborhood College is limited to 30 people. Applications will be accepted to create a diverse participant population from as many Durham neighborhoods as possible as well as residents living outside the city limits.

A light meal is served prior to the start of each class and sessions are held at City and County facilities. There is a $30 fee for residents accepted into the program, and a limited number of scholarships are available if needed. Area high school students ages 15 and up as well as Latino residents are particularly encouraged to apply.

Interested residents should submit a completed application to the Durham County Clerk to the Board of Commissioners, 200 East Main St., Second Floor, Durham, N.C. 27701.
