Fast Facts

- The Durham YouthWork Internship Program, a Durham City/County/Durham Public Schools initiative, is hosting the 2015 Durham Youth Summit next month in partnership with Durham Parks and Recreation.

- Youth ages 14 to 21 and their parents are invited to attend this free event to explore and learn about various careers, community resources and educational opportunities.
- Participants will also interact with businesses at the Career Fair, and they will have an opportunity to participate in workshops around three topics: Social Media, the Gaming Industry and STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, and Math) careers.
- Youth can win prizes, including a PlayStation 4, an HP laptop computer and a pair of Beats headphones.
- Local businesses are invited to an orientation session where they will receive information on becoming a worksite for youth and hear from other businesses with experience working with the Durham YouthWork Internship Program.
- Youth pre-registration is preferred by sending an email – including full name, age and school/program – to DurhamYouthWork@DurhamNC.gov. Participants should dress in business casual attire.
- For more information about the 2015 Durham Youth Summit, contact Employment Program Coordinator James Dickens with the City's Office of Economic and Workforce Development at (919) 560-4965, ext. 15217 or by email to James.Dickens@DurhamNC.gov.
