Durham Parks and Recreation Hosts Egg Hunts Participants Search for Eggs on Land and in the Water

DURHAM, NC - In April, residents will have several opportunities to put all of their eggs in one basket at Durham Parks and Recreation's Annual Egg Hunts. All events are free unless otherwise noted.

On April 1, residents and their canine friends are invited to the Dog-Gone Egg Hunt at Piney Wood Park from 10 a.m. – noon. Dogs must meet the minimum vaccination requirements of the dog park. Non dog park members are allowed, but must show proof of vaccination in advance or on the day of the event.

Also on April 1, participants will have to make a splash in the pool to find eggs at the Spring Egg Dive at Campus Hills Pool, 2000 S. Alston Avenue, from 5:30 p.m. – 7 p.m. An adult will need to enter the water with children 9 years old and younger. Life jackets will be provided. The cost ranges from $6-11. Participants must register at DPRPlayMore.org using course #6234.

On Saturday, April 8, egg-citement will be in the air at the two Egg Hunts scheduled to be held at Campus Hills Park, 2000 S. Alston Avenue, and West Point on the Eno, 5101 N. Roxboro Road.

The event at Campus Hills Park will take place from 10 a.m. – 11 a.m. There will be games, activities and more. Prizes will be awarded to the participant that finds the golden eggs.

The Egg Hunt at West Point on the Eno will be held from 10 a.m. – noon and will include a special guest appearance by the Easter Bunny, crafts, games, face painting and more!

For information, call 919-560-4355 or visit DPRPlayMore.org.
