City of Durham Seeks Proposals for Banner Design Contest

Submission Deadline is June 30, 2018

DURHAM, N.C. – The City of Durham is seeking design proposals for a series of artful banners to adorn the southern facade of the new Downtown Mixed-Use Parking Garage. The new facility, located at the intersections of Mangum Street, Morgan Street and Rigsbee Avenue, is expected to be open to the public in early 2019.

About the Art Banner Design Contest

This public art opportunity is open to all talented and creative people living or working in the Research Triangle area. Applicants are asked to develop and submit a design proposal for eight artful banners to be displayed on the parking garage, currently under construction, in downtown Durham. The City of Durham's Cultural Advisory Board and the Public Art Committee will review all design proposals submitted by the deadline and select up to five finalists. Each finalist will be awarded $500. The finalists' design proposals will then be displayed on the City of Durham's webpage for a 10- day period, during which the Durham community will be asked to vote on their favorite design. The finalist with the winning design proposal will be awarded an additional $7,500 honorarium. The winning design proposal will be professionally printed and installed by the City.

All proposals must be in digital format and include a completed cover sheet and digital images of the overall composition and banner detail. The deadline for submissions is June 30, 2018 at 11:59 p.m. MST. Full submission guidelines and project details are available here.

There will be two informal opportunities for interested individuals or teams to ask City staff any questions about the contest on June 19, 2018 from 12:30p.m. to 1:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. These open sessions will be held at Parrish Street Forum, located at 108 W. Parrish Street. Interested applicants who are unable to attend either of these sessions may always direct questions in writing to durhampublicart@gmail.com.
