Reimagining 15-501 Corridor Study Hosts Second Public Workshop October 22

DURHAM, N.C. — If you travel along U.S. Highway 15-501 between Durham and Chapel Hill, you know how congested it can be each day. To help plan for the future of this busy highway, resident input is now being sought on potential concepts to relieve traffic congestion between Durham and Chapel Hill.

The Durham-Chapel Hill-Carrboro Metropolitan Planning Organization (DCHC MPO) and the North Carolina Department of Transportation (NCDOT) are co-hosting a second open house for the Reimagining 15-501 Corridor Study on Monday, October 22 from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the Eno River Unitarian Universalist Fellowship, located at 4907 Garrett Rd., Durham.

The purpose of this second public workshop is to review and comment on proposed concepts for addressing future transportation challenges in the U.S. Highway 15-501 Corridor between Ephesus Church Road in Chapel Hill and University Drive in Durham. Residents will be able to comment on their preferred concepts, which will help guide the project team in selecting the concepts that will be studied in detail as they move toward final recommendations for the corridor. This workshop is a drop-in style meeting where staff will answer questions and receive feedback. Parking is available on site and this location can be accessed on GoDurham Route 10/10a.

For more information about the project, visit the project website at <http://www.reimagining155011.com> as well as follow the DCHC MPO on Facebook and Twitter for #reimagining15501 updates.
